Title: Home Spill Kit for cytotoxics

Wherever cytotoxic substances are prepared, transported or administered, there is the potential of hazardous contamination should an accidental spill occur.

Helapet home chemotherapy spill kits offer a cost effective solution for areas where small amounts of cytotoxics are handled and are ideal for doctors, medical practitioners, veterinary surgeries, care homes and patients self administering cancer therapies in their own homes.

Each kit contains protective goggles and latex free gloves for protection, dry wipes to absorb and contain any spill, alcohol impregnated wipes to clean and decontaminate the area and a fully labelled chemo-trans-waste bag to safely dispose of the contaminated waste.

The kit comes complete with full instructions and a spill report form.

For more information on the mini spill kit or kits to handle larger cytotoxic spills, please call 0800 0328 428 or visit our website www.helapet.co.uk
