We're getting personal with our deliveries...

In partnership with Interlink Express, Helapet customers now have the opportunity to receive advanced notification of forthcoming deliveries, supporting successful first-time receipt of essential products. Nominated delivery contacts will receive personalised text messages and emails advising them of a Helapet delivery.

We understand that our customers need their products arriving on time and to the right location. This is why our notifications will include delivery dates, times and location, with additional facilities allowing customers to track shipments and even amend the delivery schedule.
